Fantastic Earn & Learn Rewards
We have just received a large delivery of products as a result of our Earn and Learn Program last year. Thanks to the huge support of our school community in collecting Earn and Learn tickets when shopping at Woolworths, we have received resources to support our Kids Matter and clubs program, literacy numeracy curriculum and furnishings for our library and Prep areas. This is a fantastic way to get additional resources to help our student’s development at school.

District Swimming Carnival
Congratulations to our students in grade 3 to 6 who represented Kilmore Primary School at the District Swimming Carnival last Friday. We are very proud of your sportsmanship, behaviour and team spirit. Well done to those students who were successful at making it to the next stage of competition and we wish you the best of luck in your upcoming races.

Have a great week.

Wow! What a great turn out we had for our first meeting of 2013. A very warm welcome to all of our new and returning members.

Due to this term being fairly short we have kept things relative low key.

Some important dates for your diaries as we begin the year.

Icypole Fridays will happen every Friday throughout Term 1 and then resume in Term 4.

We are having a meeting next Friday 1st March to organise the mother’s day stall. All welcome.

The AGM for KPSCA is being held on Friday 15th March 2013 at 9am in the portable.

For those of you who wish to be involved in the direction of the Community Association I urge you to attend this meeting as all positions are declared vacant and voting in of the new committee will take place. I ask you to consider your involvement, even if it only be minimal, with the community association as it will only be as effective as it members. It is a great opportunity to become involved in the school community.

We are also calling for donations for our annual Easter Raffle which will be drawn during the last week of term 1.

SICK BAY LINEN ROSTER - HELP NEEDED
Each year we ask if parents are able to assist in the washing and changing of the linen in our sick bay. In most cases this means 2 or 3 times a year. If you are able to help out please return this form to the office by Friday, March 1st. A roster will be distributed shortly after.

What’s Growing in the Garden?
Welcome to the garden segment to inform the school community of what’s happening in the school garden. Great news, a parent recorded 25 mm of rain yesterday! Tina and Georgia used the wet weather opportunity to price water tanks. Has anyone got a 2000 litre tank to donate?

On the list of jobs to complete is to maintain and beautify the Prep’s Bulb Garden which was established last year (located near the asphalt basketball courts). Bulbs dug up and stored to be replanted include many Daffodils and Jonquils. If you have spare “mystery bulbs, please donate them to the school by April.

Remember we need and welcome the help of parents in the garden since the gardener is employed for just 3 hours per week. You will need a Working With Children Check. You may like to help on a regular basis or just drop in occasionally to help out in a particular area.

Please leave your contact details at the office or ring Tina on PH 0488 245 961 or Georgia PH 0409 534 242

It’s not okay to be away ... nor to be late to school

When kids miss school, not only is their academic progress impeded, forcing them to catch up on missed work (which some never do), they often miss important interactions with their peers which can compound issues of social isolation and low self-esteem.

One of the most important things you can do to ensure your child has a bright future is to make sure he or she goes to school every day—and gets there on time.

It sounds simple, but it’s true.

The correlation between school attendance and children’s achievement levels is well-established. The more time kids spend at school, the more likely they are to experience school success.

Conversely, according to a report from the Victorian Auditor General, students who are regularly absent from school are at the greatest risk of dropping out of school early, and of experiencing long-term unemployment.

When kids miss school, not only is their academic progress impeded, forcing them to catch up on missed work (which some never do), they often miss important interactions with their peers which can compound issues of social isolation and low self-esteem. Also, many teachers tell me, it’s often the kids who can least afford to take time off school who are most likely to be serial absentees.

Of course, most people know this intuitively, yet school absenteeism is a huge problem in Australian schools—and much of it is parent-condoned.

It’s hard to get an accurate picture across the country but it would appear that Australian students miss an average of between 12 and 15 days per school year, with parent-condoned absenteeism highest among young primary-aged children.

That adds up to a year’s lost schooling over the school-life of a child.

In today’s highly competitive world, this rate of absenteeism is alarming, putting our kids at a distinct disadvantage.

That’s not a reason to be away!

It’s now commonplace for children to stay away from school for reasons that would have been unheard of just twenty years ago. These include staying away to celebrate their own or a sibling’s birthday, being absent because they stayed up too late watching television, going shopping for clothes, extended long weekend; and kids not wanting to take part in a sports day or special school event.

This type of absenteeism sends a strong message to kids that parents don’t really value learning or their children’s school experiences.

Australian kids only spend 15% of their total time at school. They spend more time asleep than they do at school. So we need to maximise every day to get full value. That means turning up to school every day, on time.

As a Parent:

- Commit to sending kids to school every day.
- Make sure kids arrive at school and class on time.
- Inform the school when they are away, sending medical certificates and other evidence of genuine absence.
- Consider catching-up on missed work.
- Make kids who are away stay in their bedroom – that is where ill kids should be.

Being late is not okay either

Missing a few minutes each day may not seem like a big deal but your child may be missing more than you realise if he or she is continually late.

Current research shows that mornings for most children are the most productive time of the day, with 10:30am the peak period for productivity. When children arrive late and take time to settle as they inevitably do, valuable learning time is lost.

It takes strong parenting...

As a parent myself I know how persuasive children of all ages can be when it comes to taking a day off school. It takes a strong will to resist the persistent pressure that kids can bring to bear, particularly if they play the guilt card with comments such as “It’s not fair that I have to go school today because Aunty is coming to visit!”

Nice try. But the answer should be “No!”

As parents we need to make a commitment that our kids make the most of their precious time at school. That means that we send them to school every day, on time and ready to make the most of the school day.

Of course, there will be times, such as illness or genuinely extenuating family circumstances, when kids should be away. But these need to be a rarity rather than the norm.

It’s reassuring to know that you increase their chances of future success just by making sure they turn up to school every day. And of course regular school attendance also helps kids prepare for the workforce, where it will be expected that they turn up each day work-ready. The real world is unforgiving of those who stay away with NO EXCUSE.
